Business Manager

To

Fred Paul Grosscup

Business man, scholar, and steadfast friend of the West Virginia University, this volume of the Monticola is respectfully dedicated. :-: :-: ;-:

FRED PAUL GROSSCUP was born on a farm in the northern part of the state of Ohio, in 1861. His boyhood was spent as a farmer lad, learning agriculture by dint of hard toil. As a youth he was industrious, thrifty, and energetic, and his early life was spent in constant work.

Early in life he showed a marked interest in business activity, and when but a mere youth displayed great ability and business acumen. Gradually he became interested in various enterprises, and in the '90's, foreseeing that a great future was in store for our state, he decided to stake everrything in this new territory, bringing all his resources to the city of Charleston, where he has since been actively identified with many lines of business.

Colonel Grosscup was among the first to recognize the fact that our state is blessed with such a great store of natural resources, and he has been an historical figure in the development of natural gas in West Virginia. He was the one to lay the first gas pipe line through the Kanawha fields. He has been one of the few men of the state who have known of the magnitude of our resources and who have endeavored to the utmost to benefit West Virginia by attempting extensive development.

As to our educational system, Colonel Grosscup has always been one of its most ardent supporters. He is aware that education keeps pace with other things in its demands, and that its call cannot go unheeded. It is gratifying to say that he favors extensive appropriations for the state university, and that no one realizes more than he the crying demand for increased equipment, and greater support in every way. He has always been, and will always be, a most loyal supporter of West Virginia, her industries, and her educational system.

Sophomore History

AS a little circle of Freshmen gathered in September, nineteen eighteen, beneath the maple near Science Hall, Fate descended and revealed herself with kindest omens. This group was claimed to be the wisest of Nineteen Eighteen. What the Oracle should declare to them would guide the destiny of a powerful class.

The spirit unseen revealed a four-leaf clover within their circle. A miracle was performed upon its leaves. In some mysterious manner, behold a number shone brilliantly upon each leaf, boldly read as 1–9–2–2.

"What meaneth this?" questioned the wise ones. Then replied the wiseth of the group:

"Brothers, hear you the interpretation and meaning of this thing, which the spirit and oracle hath revealed and shown unto me this day. No sign hath ever before been given to any class like this. It meaneth leadership, vigor, energy, and power. It meaneth greatest of success for the class of nineteen eighteen. This is the interpretation of the shining numbers. Let us here highly resolve to prove the prophecy of the oracle. No greater fortune can come to any class."

The achievements of the class of nineteen eighteen can bear witness to that prophecy. Leading athletes of the university have been contributed by the Sophomore class. Scholastic and literary leaders are among its members. This class is essentially broad guage in its achievement. It bows to none; its greatest work is that it serves the school and all.

Freshman History

SEPTEMBER, nineteen nineteen, West Virginia University gathered under her wings a chaotic brood of freshmen, coming from all parts of the state.

In confidence and good spirits these newcomers took up the work of registration, but before they emerged from that ordeal, many of them began to realize the bigness of things, and not the least, the financial demands made on the students. The first few weeks were taken up in accustoming themselves to the order of affairs, and in fighting that ever recurring longing for home. Fraternities and sororities recognized the excellence of the class, and pledged many members to new bonds and obligations

Our warriors conducted themselves gallantly in the engagement on High street, which will go down in the annals of history as equal to the Marne or Chateau-Thierry.

The class is started on its career with a high standard to maintain, and its course will be shaped as the flight of an eagle, leaving other classes to plod the pathway with the oxen, far below.

Eagles Mere Conference

West Virginia University was well represented at the Y. W. C. A. Student Conference at Eagles Mere, Pennsylvania. The conference was held at Eagles Mere Park, which is situated in the northern part of Pennsylvania on the beautiful lake of the Eagles. Girls from four states gathered there for ten days of instruction in various phases of Y. W. C. A. work and to discuss different problems. Aside from the instruction there were all kinds of ways to enjoy oneself. There were all kinds of athletic contests such as swimming, rowing, canoeing and tilting. Hikes, basket ball games and songs along the lake were enjoyed by the girls.

Eagles Mere is a wonderful place to discover what other colleges are doing. College problems are discussed and friendly suggestions are exchanged. College spirit is very strong and yet there is a wholesome feeling of co-operation among the girls. It is hoped that West Virginia will send a large delegation this summer and take its place among the leading colleges as it should. At the last conference the following delegates were sent: Mary Largnt, Louise Englehart, Agnes Price, Alta Reeves, Margaret Thomas, Eulalia Carson, Effie Anderson, Anagrace Cochran.

Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Joint Reception

The Young Woman's and Young Men's Christian Associations of the University gave a joint reception, according to the custom of former years, in honor of the new students, in the Armory, Saturday evening, October fourth. The address of welcome was given by President Trotter after which the students joined in singing "Hail West Virginia". The remainder of the evening was spent informally by the students getting acquainted.

Y. W. C. A. Tea

The Young Woman's Christian Association gave a tea in the parlors of the Woman's Hall, Friday afternoon, September twenty-sixth in honor of the newly enrolled girls of the University. The guests were rceived by Miss Rachel Colwell and Miss Mary Largent. Miss Susan Moore and Miss Schmidt presided at the tea table and were assisted by several members of the Association. As favors, the guests were presented with cards on which were written verses referring to the "Big Sister" movement. About four hundred guests were present and the affair was one of the most successful ever given by the Association.

Military Ball

The most pretentious affair of the season was the Military Ball given under the auspices of the Corps of Cadets at the Armory, Monday, February ninth. The decorations of the hall were along military lines. Flags of the Allied Nations completely covered the walls and hung from the ceiling. The music was furnished by Isle's Orchestra of Keyser. The Grand March was led by Cadet Colonel W. S. Price and Miss Irene Barnes. An intermission was given after the ninth dance, during which an elaborate lunch was served. The programs were encased in favors—leather card cases embossed with the West Virginia Seal. The committee in charge of the affair was composed of Captain H. L. Mumma and Cadet officers W. S. Price, David C. Graham, S. B. Bottome, R. B. Walker, P. H. Price, H. H. Thompson, and D. Finney Sheets.

The Torch and Serpent

The first annual dance of the Torch and Serpent Society was given December twelfth at the Armory. The hall was artistically decorated in keeping with the Christmas season in pine and laurel, the lights being shaded in red. The music was furnished by Irwin's "Pep" Orchestra of Altoona, Pa. The patronesses of the evening were Miss Susan Maxwell Moore, Mrs. John Purington, Mrs. Eleanor Knutti, Mrs. Wm. E. Glasscock, Mrs. S. J. Morris, Mrs. W. J. Kay, Mrs. Harry Bevely and Mrs. W. J. Snee. The committee in charge was composed of C. H. Latham, D. D. Hamilton, William Welton, C. J. Richardson, R. L. Furbee, E. B. Stone, Albert Laas, and William Turley.

Y. M. C. A. Dinner and Smoker

The Young Men's Christian Association gave its annual membership dinner and smoker at the Madeira Hotel, December fifteenth. Malden Stout, the president of the Association, presided. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Robert A. Ellwood.

Student Government Tea

The Student Government Association gave a delightful tea in the parlor of Woman's Hall, Saturday afternoon, February twenty-first, from three until five. The guests were received by Miss Flora Hays of the Advisory Board, Miss Mae Newman, president of the Association, Miss Riley, Miss Eva Gallagher, and Miss Virginia Armstrong Miss Schmidt presided at the tea table and was assisted by Miss Jane Adams, Miss Beulah Hess, and Miss Ruth Fisher.

Pi Beta Phi

The Pledges of the Pi Beta Phi sorority entertained the active members and friends with a Valentine dance at the Chapter house, Saturday evening, February fourteenth. The house was decorated with a profusion of red and silver-blue hearts. Cook's Orchestra furnished the music for an eighteen dance program. Punch was served throughout the evening and at ten o'clock refreshments were served. The chaperones were Mrs. Hodgson and Mrs. Lazzelle.

Beta Theta Pi

An elaborate dinner dance was given by the members of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, Saturday, December sixth. During the early part of the evening the chapter house on Willey street was the scene of the reception and dance. The main hall was decorated with lattice work in the school colors while in the large living room the fraternity colors were used. A feature of the evening was the novel metal programs in the form of memorandums incrusted with the fraternity coat of arms. The music was furnished by Barretts Dance Orchestra of Fairmont. In the latter part of the evening the guests were taken to the Maderia Hotel where a five course dinner was served. While at the table, each guest was presented with a corsage of pink roses and the members of the fraternity sang their song, "Pass the Loving Cup Around." The patrons and patronesses for the evning were Dr. and Mrs. Waitman Barbe, Professor and Mrs. Leo Carlin, Mr. and Mrs. Nat C. Burdette, Mr. Ollie Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Coombs, and Dr. Albert Reese.

Sigma Chi

The members of Mu Mu chapter of Sigma Chi were hosts at a dance Saturday evening. December sixth at their chapter house on North High schreet. The house was decorated with laurel, pine and ferns and a huge hornets' nest occupied a prominent position over the large fireplace. Cook's Jazz Orchestra furnished the music for a programme of twelve dances and two extras. During the intermission a lunch was served. The patrons and patronesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Pearl McCue and Mrs. Eleanor Knutti.

Phi Sigma Kappa

The members of the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity entertained with a dance at their home on North High Strreet, Saturday evening, January seventeenth. The rooms were decorated with streamers of the fraternity colors, magneta and silver gray. The music was furnished by Cook's Jazz Orchestra. During an intermission a lunch was served. The patronesses for the evening were Mrs. S. J. Morris, Mrs. A. L. Bayers, and Mrs. Campbell Garrison.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The active members of West Virginia Beta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon gave a dance at their home on Wilson Avenue, Saturday evening January seventeenth. The house was decorated with potted plants, banners and streamers of red and royal purple. Punch was served throughout the evening and during an intermission a lunch was served. Corsages of swet peas and rose buds were given as favors. The music was furnished by Phillip's Orchestra of Fairmont. The patronesses of the evening were Mrs. J. H. Patterson, Mrs. Marvin L. Taylor, and Mrs. Harlan Mumma.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

The members and pledges of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority were hostesses at an informal dance at their home on High Street, Saturday evening, January seventeenth.

Alpha Xi Delta

The pledges of Iota chapter of Alpha Xi Delta gave a dance in honor of the active members on Saturday, November twenty-second at the chapter house on Willy Street The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and decorations which carried out the idea of the Thanksgiving season as did the refreshments and favors. The music was furnished by Cook's Jazz Orchestra.

Phi Kappa Psi

The active members of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity entertained with an informal dance at their chapter home on Spruce Street, Saturday evening, November eighth. The rooms were effectively decorated with corn fodder, pumpkins and autumn leaves, suggestive of the Hallowe'en season. In the early part of the evening unique paper caps were distributed among the guests and hours and tick-tacks played their part in the hilarity. During the evening delicious refreshments were served. The music was furnished by Cook's Jazz Orchestra. The patronesses of the evening were Mrs. W. E. Glasscock, Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Mrs. F. B. Corbin, Mrs. Gertrude Cochran, Mrs. George Viewig, Mrs. David Reger and Mrs. J. M. G. Brown.

Fi Bata Cappar is the only gang in school which enjoys the distinction of being able to defy men and college professors to find out when the organization began. While we arbitrarily fix the founding date at 3000 B. C., our musty records carry us back to ancient eras, and our honorable members are the principal characters encountered in the mystic legends of the far-off ages. Some of the older records at the chapter house have been effaced by time, and owing to the fact that some of them are written in Sanscrit, Egyptian hieroglyphics, Ancient Hebrew, Hottentot, and other provincial tongues, many pages are either illegible or unintelligible. But sufficient reliable information can be found to show us that Adam wore a Fi Bata pin in the lapel of his apron; that the pitch fork carried by Awful Lakin in our Thanksgiving parade is the same one used by Neptune; that Jason sold Fi Bata pins made from the Golden Fleece at eight cents each; that Croesus led the Fi Bata cheering which inspired Ben Hur to victory; that the Trojan Horse was a product of the fertile brain of L. H. C. P. Ulysses, conceived in a spirited "pep" meeting in a shell hole near the walls of Troy; finally, that the picture on the opposite page is a likeness of the Sacred Bull which was led into the Ark by our esteemed Brother, Noah.

Then, as we trace our history through succeeding ages we find frequent mention of Hannibal, Roger Williams, Brutus, Lord Fairfax, Mark Antony, Lief the Lucky, Confucius, Lycurgus, Walter Raleigh, Enoch Arden, and many others. The archives reveal many interesting facts. For instance, Nero was pledged in 53 A. D but forfeited his pledge pin as a result of "thumbs down" in a ballot taken in the Vatican, July 1, A. D. 56. Eric the Blood, introduced the spitball in a game on the Upper Nile between Jerusalem and Punxatawny a few centuries before the Dead Sea was taken ill. Fi Batas were oppressed during the reign of Elizabeth. This explains why Brother Shakespeare used the expression "Fi!", or "Fi on you!" He did this merely to establish his identity and to communicate to brother Fi Batas that he was a member in good standing. And, in a like manner, our records afford explanation for numerous other social, political, and economic phenomena throughout different periods of history.

Now for a word regarding the establishment of Alfa Chapter at West Virginia. The scrolls of Fi Bata Cappar were placed in the hands of Ponce de Leon for safe keeping long after Hannibal had found them on Mount Arrat. While in search of the Mississippi, Ponce de Leon visited Columbus at his mansion on Observatory Hill, Morgantown. While here, Ponce died, and with the scrolls on his person was buried by the natives behind Columbus' garage. Then in our own time, Hal Scott, searching for a Latin pony which he had lost on Observatory ill, found the parchments. He translated them and expounded them to a few of his followers. Thus was Alfa Chapter of Fi Bata Cappar brought to West Virginia.

The Active Chapter boasts no accomplishments, no purposes, no aims, no ideals. But a disinterested outsider suggests that we mention a few things, so here goes reluctantly. We won the W. & J. game this year by our parade and cheering. Our brothers won the out-of-town games by playing ivory-headed football. We acted like damfools as often as possible. We initiated this year more numbskulls and vacuum tops than ever before. We don't owe a cent. We wear old clothes and don't drink cokes. We passed a few courses but it wasn't our fault. Our membership consists of men of all shapes, colors, and sizes—both mentally and physically.

A personal write-up of each member would be a surprise to his friends and a revelation to his home folks. But space prevents. The whole gamut of human and animal accomplishments can be seen in our ranks. Our members come from all walks and crawls of life. We are conceded to be the best crap-shooters to be found traveling east from Morgantown to Toledo. We can drink more liquor and near stuff than any other gang afloat. We furnish more chamber maids for livery stables than any other organization on the campus. Beau Brummels, Abe Lincolns, giants, runts, millionaires, paupers, patent leathers, hob nails, milk, gin, brains, vacuums,—all stalk arm in arm through the halls of our chapter house. In short, a crowd cosmopolitan.

FI BATA CAPPAR. The words translated mean, "For shame, boost West Virginia." Fi is the ancient Greek word for "Shame on you"; Bata is the Esquimaux for "Boost"; Cappar means "Sky piece", or "Mountain top", hence, "West Virginia." FOR SHAME, BOOST WEST VIRGINIA.

The call for candidates for the Varsity was given two weeks before the opening of school. Forty men responded. Cheat was selected as the most fitting site for the training of the men. Early indications pointed to the fact that West Virginia was to have the greatest football team in her histoy. And West Virginia did have the greatest football team in her history, but her schedule was a formidable one. West Virginia came through the season with flying colors except on two occasions when she met reverses at the hands of Pitt and Center. Yet in spite of these two defeats, the season was the most successful that West Virginia has ever experienced. In the East, our already envied athletic standing was vastly strengthened.

R. E. MULLEN, Manager

Much credit, however, must be given to Captain Rodgers, Full-Back, and Walter Camp's choice for All-American Full-Back. His passing, line plunging, and open field running was a revelation to the critics of the East, a delight to the students of West Virginia, and a terror to the hearts of Princeton, Rutgers, and W. & J.

did, with a reputation as a formidable aggregation, the Varsity tore into them with a vengeance, the result of which was a very one-sided victory for West Virginia. It is well to note, however, that the remainder of Marietta's schedule was played not only without a single defeat but also without being scored on.

The second game of the season was more or less a repetition of the first game. Westminster fought gamely but were unable to stem the advances of the big Mountaineers.

The entire student body accompanied the Varsity to Pittsburg on October 11th for the annual clash between W. V. U. and Pitt. Spirit ran high on that memorable day but Pitt proved they were better swimmers and mud-hens than the Mountaineers. It was a mean game to lose but as the season progressed, it was proved that Pitt was not 26 points better than the Varsity.

With a clean-cut victory over University of Virginia, Maryland State came highly touted as a worthy opponent of W. V. U. The big guns got busy, however, and won handily from the boys of the adjoining state.

Bethany admitted defeat before the game, yet boasted that they would hold the Varsity to three touch-downs. The varsity that day simply could not be stopped. The game was played at Wheeling.

It was right on Princeton's own ground that the Mountaineers gave old Nassau the worst trimming she has suffered in years. Nineteen points were rolled up the first ten minutes of play. Rodgers' passing, featured the offense of the victorious Mountaineers. Walter Camp, who witnessed this game, said afterwards that only a team of super men could have stopped the attack of the Mountaineers during the first quarter.

It was the aim of the Varsity on its second invasion of the East, to break the deadlock which had existed between Rutgers and W. V. U. for the past three years. In 1916, the game was a scoreless tie and in 1917 the game ended 7–7. The deadlock was broken, and by a wide margin.

Ohio Wesleyan has the honor of being the only team to score on the Mountaineers on the home lot. This was in the form of a much-deserved touchdown. The varsity, however, was ablt to win handily.

The largest crowd that had ever assembled on the Athletic Field to witness an athletic contest was present on Turkey Day when the Varsity met Washington & Jefferson on their annual classic. Enthusiasm ran high on both sides by the time of the kick-off. The field was slippery and likewise the ball, but by a well executed forward pass from Rodgers to King in the first period, the game was put on ice for the Mountaineers. W. & J. looked good for a touchdown the second quarter after having rushed the ball to West Virginia's 3-yard line. It was here that West Virginia made her stand. With first down and goal to go, W. & J. hit the line through their All-

American tackle, Henry, four times, only to give the ball up to West Virginia on the one foot line. King punted out of danger and from then on it was more or less a see-saw affair up and down the field.

Basketball

Prior to the calling out of the candidates for the Varsity Basket-Ball Team, the Athletic Association made the announcement that F. H. Stadsvolt, All-Conference Center of the University of Minnesota, was to coach Basket-Ball for the 1920 season. The candidates were called out soon after the arrival of Coach Stadsvolt and the bunch immediately got down to hard work, and by the middle of December the squad was rapidly rounding into shape. The first game of the season which was to have been played on December 9th, was called off — the Pittsburg Collegians failed to put in their appearance.

TED LIVELY, Manager

The early call for candidates and the strenuous practices were necessary in order to meet the strong Yale quintet which, on its annual tour, was to visit Morgantown, December 31st. The team was in excellent shape that night and made old Eli bow in defeat, but only after an extra five minute play-off.

Then started the Annual Eastern Tour. The Varsity got lodged behind a snow bank near Buffalo and were unable to meet Colgate in the opening game of the trip, which was scheduled for February 16th. On the following night however, Syracuse demonstrated their superiority over the Varsity by giving them a severe trouncing. It was in this game that Captain Morrison was caused to retire on account of a sprained knee which rendered him practically useless to the team the remainder of the trip.

In the deciding game between Pitt and West Virginia, Pitt proved they were better foul shooters than the Varsity. 23 of Pitt's points came over this route. One Pittsburg paper put it well when it said that the game was no more than a whistle solo with Referee Weitsel in the main role. 61 fouls were called during the game—supposedly a collegiate record.

Playing a bang-up game throughout the entire contest, West Virginia defeated the strong Washington & Jefferson team in the final game of the season. Every man on the West Virginia squad was a star. BASEBALL

WEST VIRGINIA

Baseball

West Virginia's 1919 Baseball season was one of the most successful ever experienced. The season's schedule consisted of 18 games of which the Varsity won 14, tied 1, and lost 3. All games lost and tied were played on the Eastern trip except the first game of the season which was lost to the Wheeling All-Stars on the home lot. West Virginia, however, came back and won two games from the Wheeling All-Stars later in the season, thus retrieving that first defeat.

MARK VALENTINE, Manager

The Varsity was fortunate in having Kemper Shelton back as coach. It was doubtful at first whether or not Shelton would reach the States and obtain his discharge from the Army in sufficient time to handle the squad. Much to the delight of all West Virginians, he landed in the U. S. A. and received his discharge just as the baseball weather was opening. He handled the team in excellent style and to Coach Shelton much credit must be given for the successful season that West Virginia enjoyed in 1919.

It is not fitting that we should pass without mentioning a few games of the season. The most thrilling game of the season was played on the home grounds with the famous Pittsburg Collegians. The Collegians led most of the game by a lone run, but in the last half of the ninth, West Virginia tied the score. The game went without further scoring to the last of the 13th inning. It was in this frame that the big stick of Joe Harrick got busy and ripped out a liner to the outfield which brought in West Virginia's winning tally. It was indeed, a great game to win. History was made on May 30th and 31st when West Virginia defeated our greatest rivals, Washington &

KEMPER SHELTON
Coach of Baseball Team

Jefferson 15–0 and 23–0. History was repeated on May 9th when West Virginia, playing the last game on the Eastern trip, dead-locked with Rutgers, 2 to 2 in a ten inning game.

And this year, there is forecasted for West Virginia just as brilliant a record as that of last year. Shelton is again on the job as coach, and the number of candidates is extremely promising. In fact, there is no reason why we should not reach the enviable position in college baseball that we hold in football.

Calendar

September

21. Registration. A few early birds show up in order to make a good impression at the beginning. Seniors line up eight deep at the Armory to join the cadet corps. Several Freshmen are introduced to Professor Hare, who is at the head of the receiving line.

22. "Big Sister" badges in evidence on the campus. Freshmen boys have some difficulty in locating their "Big Sisters." Woman's Hall resembles an army camp in the last stages of demobolization. The furniture is "somewhere in America," but not in Morgantown.

23. Last day of registration. Several prominent law students register in the "Ag" school at the last minuute.

26. Y. W. C. A. tea. Refreshments and the usual gossip were served. New fall finery predominates. First edition of the Athenaeum appears under a minor handicap—no editor.

27. Freshman inquires at the book store for "Mr. Foxey." There little Fresbie, don't you sigh, You'll get to know them bye and bye.

29. West Hardy and Karl Kyle buy Freshmen hats in order to be distinguished from the faculty. Professor Callahan makes usual speech on scho'arship to awe-stricken Freshmen.

30. Editor of Athenaeum elected. Gentlemen, hush! Are we going to have woman suffrage?

Calendar---Continued

October

1. Bill Snedeker elected Senior President on Independent ticket. No electioneering—after the election.

4. Varsity plays practice game with Westminster. Why will our boys be so rough?

6. Nothing. Everybody saving up for the Pitt game..

11. Swimming match staged at Forbes field. Panthers, owing to their skill in the use of the underhand stroke, outswim the Mountaineers. Oh well, "Rat" worried the Panther and "Mud" splashed a few of the cubs.

13. The cloud that Pitt feared had a silver lining—for them. "Fuzzy" Knight's graceful Greek dancing created quite a sensation, and what about our melodious cheering?

17. Inter-fraternity smoker. Kyle makes usual address. New Y. M. C. A secretary makes his first public appearance. Looks as if the Association has a "Steep Cliff" ahead of it.

31. Engineering society meets. Don Dewar reads a paper on "How to Study." Where did he get his material?

November

1. Extra! Great invasion of the east. Mountaineers capture Princeton Tiger! Heavy casuality list. Pitt mourns

3. Holiday. Varsity brings home the bacon or rather the pigskin. "Febe" and "Fuzzy," assisted by Major Mumma, are chief cooks at the celebration. What made the girls from the Hall lose their nerve at the critical time?

Calendar---Continued

8. BIG THEFT! Center stole our bacon at Charleston. Next time we'll take the Student Pastor along to encourage our team between halves. Well, they couldn't beat our band, anyway. Gus Edwards Symphony Jazzola Orchestra played "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" with real feeling after the game.

11. Debating Society appears. The students are in training for future political work. Good luck to them.

18. Why won't the Juniors get their pictures taken? Don't be afraid. Friend has plenty of extra plates if you damage a few.

19. Sigma Chi loses to Phi Kappa Psi. Kyle fails to kick where he looked. Kappa Sigma defeats Beta Theta Pi. Bill Snedeker introduces a new formation—rather too lonely a position for most quarterbacks, however.

21. Mid-semester reports. Heavy casuality list. Memorial service for those who departed this life because of cruelty of the faculty. Professor Higby entertains the survivors with this touching little ballad, "We shall meet, but we shall miss them. There will be some vacant chairs."

27. W. & J. does not celebrate Thanksgiving. An accident almost marred the day when Henry got hot, but Ice soon cooled him down. Rodgers finished a glorious career in a blaze of glory. No, he is still living. Big Pan-Hellenic dance.

December

1. Mountain stages a handicap hill-climbing contest. All candidates are reported to have reached the summit in more or less good time.

Calendar---Continued

5. Y. W. C. A. carnival. Clowns, pink lemonade and side shows. Edwards World Famed Phil-harmonajazz Orchestra, just back from an extended tour of the state is an added attraction.

8. Varsity Banquet. Heavy schedule, but the team pulled through. Rodgers delivers an illustrated lecture on "The Dangers of Being a Hero" or "Leap Year Perils". Lentz elected captain for 1920.

12. Torch and Serpent comes into existence and gives a formal dance. What's in a name anyway?

16. Rodgers makes the All-American and accepts with pleasure.

19. Christmas holidays begin. Don't study too much during vacation. The professors would be disappointed.

January

5. Vacation over. Students return full of pep and eager (?) for classes to begin. Usual after-vacation speeches by professors.

14. Girls debate the question of the honor system. Heavy attendance at Comuntzis' during chapel hour. Debating Council calls for financial assistance.

15. Bond issue for University proposed.

16. Students vote on League of Nations in vain effort to help Congress along. Furbee tried to stuff the ballot box but was caught.

20. Editor of the Athenaeum goes on the war path. Members of the staff remain in retirement.

23. Marietta defeats Varsity. Phi Sigma Nu entertains with theatre party at the Grand. What makes those boys so attractive? Even the actresses noticed them. Y. M. C. A. smoker.

31. Chemistry exams. Why are the chemistry professors so hard? You would think, having a Friend on the faculty, would help out a lot.

Calendar---Continued

February

1. Final exams begin. Professor Hardman jjustifies his name.

9. Military Ball. Registration for the second semester begins.

19. Student Government Tea. New dance formation proposed by ambitious Freshman. Parry Scott volunteers to demonstrate but is unable to find a pardner.

20. "Gus" Edwards returns in good spirits from an important business trip in behalf of the Fi Bata Cappers.

21. Senior class meets in solemn conclave. Probably they are going to arrange for another sneak day.

23. Cupid invades the Law School. Harry Cronin wins his first suit.

25. Economics Club makes its appearance on the campus. Let's hope it will wage war on the "H. C. L.", or at least help Congress make peace with Germany.

27. Joe Boyd not very successful as a horticulturist. All his flowers seem to be going to "Wilt".

March

3. Scholastic Trophies awarded. Kappa Sigma bribes the Committee on Classification and Grades. Fi Bata Cappers hold indignation meeting to protest and claim the cup.

5. Debating teams lost both initial contests. Was it stage fright or the new dress suits?

6. Pitt and W. V. U. stage a contest in fouls. We make the most, but lose the game.

Calendar—Continued

10. Kappa Alpha defeats Phi Kappa Psi and wins the championship of League A. Monticola Board well represented on winning team. Tennis Club formed.

12. Caravan entertains with a smoker. All addresses were on the level. Sigma Alpha, local fraternity, announces its existence.

13. Louis Stone consents to re-enter school after due consideration.

15. Another "Ag." professor resigns. What's the matter with the "Ag." school anyway? The slogan seems to be "Away from the Farm."

18. Seniors invite other classes to entertain them.: "They say that the Seniors, they ain't had no fun. They've been on the run, on the run, on the run."

20. W. V. U. defeats W. & J. Cadet Band assists in the slaughter.

22. Phi Beta Kappa announces elections. John Price delivers paper on "Why Sugar is Scarce and High". Sheffer, assisted by the Kappa Alpha team wins the championship of the inter-fraternity league.

26. University debating teams defeat Pitt in both contests. We can out-talk Pitt, at least.

29. Mid-semester dreams again with us. Who invented examinations anyway?

30. "Febe" Furbee announces his telephone number. Other similar announcements expected in the near future.

April

1. Big Soviet meeting in Commencement hall. Down with exams! No chapel.

2. Who printed those posters? False alarm. No revolution after all, just a joke on all Fools day. Student body gathers on athletic field for artistic picture. Fred McCoy acts as Grand Keeper of the Spring Bonnets. Where were all the students? School spirit must be a minus quantity.

3. Monticola goes to press in spite of efforts of the Board.

Her face was flushed. Her breath came from between her moist parted lips in short, tremulous gasps. Her lips and slightly distended nostrils quivered pasionately. Her whole body trembled with deep emotion. Slowly caressingly, tenderly, yielding, she surrendered herself to the strong outstretched arms. Breathing softly, she slowly closed her eyelids, her mind soaring into the great realm of the sublime. How restful was this seat after a long run for her eight o'clock.—Apologies to 1916 Monticola.

"Were you at the Junior Prom?"
"Yes, I was a stag."
"Why was that?"
"Well, I didn't have any doe."

Visitor at Womans' Hall: "How do you make such good hash?"
Reply: "We don't make it, it just accumulates."

"Would you consider it improper if I kissed your hand?"
"Not improper, but decidedly out of place."

No Surprise

He was the little brother. Sister's young gentleman was waiting patiently in the drawing room and Tommy opened fire with:

"Are you going to propose to my sister to-night?"

"Why, er—er, what do you mean?"

"Oh nothing! Only if you are, you aint going to surprise her. At dinner jus' now she bribed me an' my little brother to go to bed at half-past seven. She's hung four cupid pictures on the parlor wall, moved the sofa over in the darkest corner, got ma and pa to go callin' next door, shut the dog in the cellar, and she's been practising 'Because I Love You' on the pianner all afternoon."

He was sitting on the lawn with the girl of his choice. Suddenly she noticed some ants and other insects crawling on her dress.

"Oh look!" she said, "Bugs just love me, look at them."

Prof. Vickeers (in Economics): "How can one tell when he needs more money?"

Student: Try to buy a suit or a necktie at Reiner and Core's."

Voice in parlor: "Oh, how cold your nose is."

Mother (in next room): "Jessie, if Towser is in that room again chase him out."

Jimmy H.: "It's a strange thing, but true, that the biggest fools get the prettiest girls."

Helen: "Oh you flatterer."

I was dying for a smoke
But I feared she might object,
So I dared not dare to hope
To catch a cigarette.
But I said, "Dear, may I smoke,
I hate to bother you,
And she said, "I'm glad you spoke,
I'm dying for one too."

With houses so scarce there should be a huge increase in cave men in Morgantown.

"Do you know my son at college?"

"Oh yes, we sleep together,—in the same chemistry class."

We recently received for this section some verses by a young lady. They were tied up with pink ribbon and entitled: "I Wonder If He'll Miss Me." After reading them we returned them to the young lady with this note:

"Dear madam. If he does he ought never to be trusted with firearms again."

Old Grad: "Where did you learn to love?"

Country schol teacher: "At summer school in Morgantown."

O. G.: "I thought I recognized the style."

ask no questions about our school other than to find out how much it costs to attend. They register because they have been advised to do so by one or more of our graduates or people who know our business intimately.

But there is a smmall percentage who must have certain questions answered. First, "What does it cost?" Second, "How long will it take?" Third, "Can I complete your courses successfully?" Fourth, "Do you get positions for your graduates?" Fifth, "What course of training should I take?" Sixth, "Where will you get me a position?" We will gladly answer any or all of these quuestions for you, to youru satisfaction. Catalogue free.

Entering the World Electrical

THE graduate of today enters a world electrical.

Gathered from the distant waterfalls or generated by the steam turbine, electric power is transmitted to the busiest city or the smallest country place.

Through the co-ordination of inventive genius with engineering and manufacturing resources, the General Electric Company has fostered and developed to a high state of perfection these and numerous other applications.

And so electricity, scarcely older than the graduate of today, appears in a practical, well developed service on every hand.

Recognize its power, study its applications to your life's work, and utilize it to the utmost for the benefit of all mankind.

Note

The reason why the editor and business manager did not have their "mugs" on the last page, as has been the custom, is that we cannot afford it, at this time, with Monticolas costing so much to put out. We have tried to put out a good book, and at the same old price, and as a result, we are now beggging our new spring clothes from the old clo's man.
